Garbage: A money game

Heaped on the morass of sewage disposal, water quality and air pollution problems in the Valley sits the disposal of more than one million tons per year of Alameda County generated garbage.

Where it winds up and how it gets there my be decided by some of the heaviest — critics charge "dirtiest" — political infighting seen in quite some time.

At stake are the main thrust of the environmentalists' movement — recycling and a net reduction in the tons of garbage buried in the ground — and the capital committed to the equipment and land required in traditional garbage disposal.

Hovering on the not - too - distant horizon are conversion plants that will make energy from garbage. And the less garbage there is to bury, the less profit there is for scavenger companies.

The bulk of the county's garbage is generated in the urban west county. But its final resting place will be in the Valley, ultimately some 1,540 acres in the rolling Altamont Hills.

The Valley's current monopoly on the Vasco Road dump site will be supplanted as Bay - side disposal areas fill. That means new transfer stations in the west county where garbage is put in larger trucks for the long haul to the Valley.

All of which probably means rate hikes for Oakland Scavenger Company customers and any other garbage firm using their Altamont Hills site.

Politics permeate the state - mandated Solid Waste Management Plan, submitted to Sacramento last September only nine months after deadline.

The phase two "facilities plan," which focuses on where the garbage goes and how it gets there, is being hammered out now by the county's Solid Waste Management Authority, the scene last week of some strange political moves.

Authority chairman and San Leandro Mayor Jack Maltester is spearheading a drive to get the Altamont site included in the facilities plan as the next dump site, and to delete references to the old Davis Street dump in his town.

Oakland Scavenger Company has county zoning approval to use the Altamont land fill if it is included in the facilities plan sent to the state.

Their Davis Street site is slated for the transfer station, with 194 already filled acres dedicated to the East Bay Regional Parks District for a shoreline park. The dumping permit for the site expires March 1, but is expected to be renewed for another two years.

Maltester apparently is caught in the middle.

San Leandro citizens don't want the transfer station. They complain of noise and truck traffic. But they don't mind the park.

Oakland Scavenger Company wants zoning for the station, and apparently is holding the park land dedication in abeyance until it is guaranteed.

The city purportedly is saying: "No park lands, no permit."

At the same time, the environmentalists along with the Cities of Berkeley and Alameda want to tone down the emphasis on land fill and channel the Authority's energy toward recycling and energy conversion.

The state law, they point out, calls for a 25 per cent reduction in traditional garbage disposal by 1980. Fully operational resource and energy recovery programs eventually could reduce solid waste by 60 to 90 per cent.

Berkeley has its own dump and is building a transfer station. It will supply organic waste to the Bay Delta composting project or to an energy recovery plant — or both.

Consequently, the city does not want to be locked into a county contract that weds it to Oakland Scavenger if the city's plans fail.

The City of Alameda is in a similar plight. It wants to build an energy conversion plant in conjunction with the U.S. Navy's Alameda Naval Air Station. The plant would handle some 800 to 1,200 tons of waste per day.

City officials even talk of buying and importing other municipalities garbage to feed their plant.

Meanwhile, Oakland Scavenger has invested more than $1 million in the Altamont Hills dump site, and is committed to the Davis Street transfer station.

A drop in business because of recycling and energy conversion would not be in their best interest. And building their own conversion plants would require even more capital expenditure.

Valley Memorial lacking skilled R.N. specialists

LIVERMORE — There aren't enough nurse specialists to take care of all the critically ill patients at Valley Memorial Hospital.

Staffing the hospital's busy intensive care and coronary care units — where patients' lives hang in the balance after a heart attack, severe accident, kidney failure and other critical illnesses — is difficult because there aren't enough highly trained nurses available, according to Eileen Taylor, R.N., head nurse of the ICU and CCU.

"We have not been able to recruit enough trained and experienced nurses, despite the many courses available," she reported Thursday night to a dismayed hospital board.

She praised the nurses she had for being "an aggressive, dedicated lot who work constantly to upgrade their skills and keep in touch with all the latest developments."

Besides knowing how to read the monitors that keep track of patients' heartbeat and breathing, she said, nurses in this part of the hospital must know what to do when a patient's heart suddenly starts to fail, breathing becomes labored or kidneys give out.

"It's not uncommon," she added, "for a nurse to call a 'Code Blue' and then have the patient revived by the time the physician arrives."

Running the ICU and CCU, said Mrs. Taylor, are relatively new speciaties requiring a nurse to take additional courses. Yet, there's no extra pay for the exacting, exhausting work so nurses have no incentive except personal satisfaction for going into critical care work.

Mrs. Taylor's report to the board revealed two other shortcomings in the unit.

The first was need of a readily available medical director for the unit, "possibly someone not in private practice."

Second was overcrowding. "I wish you could see the obstacle courses we have to struggle with," she said.

"And it is difficult for me to supervise two units separated by a corridor, since I can't be in two places at once."

Taylor said she and Larry Freeman, assistant administrator at VMH, are working on a plan for running the two units during the transition period while a new 10 - bed ICU/CCU is built. Currently, there are eight beds which in 1976 served some 514 patients.

Mrs. Taylor predicted that even 10 beds won't be enough and VMH will be forced, as they do now, to move patients out to make room for some even more critically ill.

"We share your conclusion that it isn't enough," assured board president Ted Fairfield. "But it's only an interim expansion."

Delta water cuts pose Valley threat

A state proposal to reduce water flowing to the Sacramento - San Joaquin delta could lower water quality in the Valley and may eventually affect supply.

Mun Mar, general manager of the Zone 7 water management board, said Friday the State Water Resources Control Board plan to divert more water to upstream storage points as a reserve against a continued drought probably would be implemented soon.

Flows through the delta are regulated to maintain salt concentrations standards in downstream agricultural regions. But no natural runoff will occur if the drought continues, so water may stored to maintain safe water levels.

Three state senators, including John Nejedly (R - Walnut Creek), opposed the plan because it would lower water quality standards.

Groundwater levels in the Valley are rising, and Mar repeated the promise of an adequate water supply at least until spring.

But an extended stretch without rain, continued consumer waste, little snow in the Sierras and possible reallocations to needy communities couldlead to restrictive measures by summer when demand peaks, he cautioned.

"State estimates of short - term supplies are lower than they were two months ago," he said. "But we're better off then than some of our neighbors."

Residential and industrial users are highest priority in allocating water, with agricultural consumers last. That could change due to the great impact farming has on the state's economy, Mar said.

Because of a heavy response to announcement of a tax talk at the Livermore library Feb. 9, library officials have asked people to call ahead for reservations.

Gerald Holmes, who spent eight years working for the Internal Revenue Service and now is a certified public accountant in Oakland, will outline changes affecting individuals in the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

"We still have seats left," aid reference librarian Debra Brumsvold, "but we want people to pick up admission tickets before they come to the talk."

She said if more people express an interest than the library has room for, a second talk will be scheduled in the near future.

Council travels

— Another visit to a neighborhood by the Pleasanton city council will occur Feb. 7 when the council will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Fairlands School.

As usual there will be presentations by council members concerning street and traffic problems, residential development, parks and recreation, and commercial development in the neighborhood. There also will be an open question and answer period.

Residents of the area are encouraged to attend the meeting and make known any problems or desires.

Blood needed

Blood donations are needed as badly as ever at the Alameda - Contra Costa Medical Association's blood bank and Valley people will have just one chance to help in February.

The Bloodmobile will be parked at the Recreation Center, Eighth and H Streets in downtown Livermore, from 2-6:30 p.m. Tuesday. For the rest of the month, the big van will visit other spots around the East Bay, returning to the Valley in March for its bimonthly collection at the Vets Hall.

Driver killed

Livermore — A 31 - year - old resident was killed Thursday night when his car went out of control and struck a tree on Stanley Boulevard, highway patrol officials report.

Danny Leroy Julson of 116 El Caminito was pronounced dead on arrival at Valley Memorial Hospital before 11 p.m.

According to reports, Julson was attempting to pass another car while traveling eastbound on Stanley about 10:20 Thursday night when his car went out of control and struck the tree a quarter - mile east of First Street outside Pleasanton. He was pinned behind the wheel until freed by members of the Alameda County Rescue Squad.

The highway patrol says the accident was caused by allegedly excessive speed. No one else was involved.

Sunol gets hearing

Sunol residents will host the first public airing of the county's draft environmental impact report for developer Carl Nipper's proposed "Rancho Sunol Estates" this Tuesday evening.

County planning commissioners have called a special meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday, in the Sunol Glen Elementary School, Main and Bond streets.

Nipper wants to develop 95 estate homesites on the Pleasanton Ridge overlooking Sunol. Town residents in the past have protested, claiming the project would overcrowd their schools.

Public testimony on the EIR will be taken Tuesday night; written comments will be accepted through March 14. All comments will be answered by county planners and ecome part of the final IR

Pick up cards

Livermore seniors 60 years of age and older can pick up their special gold discount cards Tuesday at the Senior Service Center.

Volunteers will be at the center, 8th and H streets, from 1 to 4 p.m. to to distribute the cards which allow seniors to obtain discounts at many local stores.

Participating stores will display a green circular decal in their places of business. Merchants in Livermore, Dublin and Pleasanton have entered the program on a voluntary basis to help seniors stretch their fixed incomes.

To relieve bottleneck

City okays Dublin Blvd. turn lane

DUBLIN — Quick action has been taken by Alameda Conty officials who are permitting a left turn lane to be pinted on Dublin Boulevard between Village Parkway and the divider strip in front of K - Mart's parking lot plus a crosswalk from Sierra Court to Dublin Sports Grounds.

Work on the $5,000 project will begin within the next two weeks, according to Dave Burton, Rotarian and vice - president of the Dublin Chamber of Commerce.

The strip that narrows along Dublin Boulevard in the 6900 block becomes a bottleneck during rush hours and weekends.

Other slowdowns occur on Saturdays when kids are being dropped off or picked up after playing soccer at Dublin Sports Grounds. There are 1500 soccer players in the local clubs. Chamber members and other citizens fear a child will be injured or killed at the dangerous crossing from Sierra Court to the sports grounds.

The county has plans to make Dublin Boulevard five lanes including a center left turn lane. Stop signals are to be placed at Dougherty Road. But this major project has been held up for lack of contract funding that is to be provided by federal and state agencies.

Jessie Cambra, road department chief with the Public Works Agency in Hayward, indicated to Burton that July 1977 was the earliest construction could begin on the major project.

The lines to be painted within the next two weeks are a stopgap measure.

The chamber began seeking help from the county in January, 1977.

In letters dated Jan. 11, Burton notified Cambra and Valerie Raymond about the traffic hazards. Raymond is supervisor in Alameda County's first district.

Burton said the two officials agreed the project should receive top priority. He attributedthe fast accomplishment to their excellent cooperation.

Fathers find fun tutoring

SAN RAMON— "At first I thought I'd be a little afraid, but it's turned out to be fantastic," Dean Hoff beams in describing his experience as a volunteer tutor in a kindergarten class at Country Club School.

Hoff and Roger Werne are the only two male parent volunteers at the San Ramon district school and, as such, are gaining as well as contributing to unique experiences.

A salesman who assists in Becky Dellanini's class when his work schedule permits, Hoff helps at the kindergarten learning statons and "makes sure they do their projects."

Werne assists with the Early Childhood Education program in Mary-Lou Clines' second grade class.

A 1965 graduate of San Jose State, Werne is remembered by dedicated track and field enthusiasts as a pole vaulter on the Spartan track teams of that era.

His wife, Lani, assists in the classroom twice a week.

Werne has been coming in, when his schedule at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory permits, since the volunteer program began in September. He helps the second graders with mathematics and word skills.

Coordinator of the ambitious volunteer program that has brought forth an outstanding response of some 100 parents is Carol Moody.

Persons wishing more information on the program should contact Mrs. Moody at the school, located at 7534 Blue Fox Way.

Assemblyman Floyd Mori

School finance plan hit

"In reality, we're not going to get total equality from the governor's program," Assemblyman Floyd Mori stated Thursday night during a Valley Education Committee meeting dealing with implementation of the Serrano - Priest ruling on public school financing.

The panel was formed by Mori over a year ago to serve as a liaison between his office and parents, trustees and educators in Valley school districts.

The meeting dealt with a proposal by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr. that would phase - in Serrano - Priest over a five - year period. The implications of Serrano - Priest are centered on "equalizing" of wealth among all public school districts in the state.

Mori, however, admitted he "has a problem with this whole concept of high and low wealth."

Later, he commented that he felt the governor's proposal would come out as the guide to implementation.

The Amador, Livermore and Murray districts were identified as "low wealth" districts that would benefit from the revised financial setup. Sunol Glen is considered a "high wealth" district and could be hurt. The Sunol tax rate is now $2.94 and, according to figures supplied by Mori, would go to $3.05 and then level off.

It is this "leveling off" affect, with consequent funneling of excess assessed valuation monies to "poor" districts that is concerning the "rich" districts.

Mori illustrated how the leveling of low and high wealth districts would affect certain districts in Alameda. Emeryville, for example, with a tax rate of $1.81 and a base revenue of $2,819.80 (1975-76) behind each child could be severely effected.

But districts such as Livermore, Murray, Fremont and San Lorenzo at the other end of the scale, would be helped.

fringe benefits" were factors in his decision to make the move. His salary at Pleasanton was just over $32,000 per year.

"This has been a very difficult decision for me," Edgar said. "I love Pleasanton, but I also feel that a move is good for me, and perhaps goo also for the city." There has been no hint of conflict between Edgar and the city council which might have prompted his resignation, and in factthe two - page statement circulated by Edgar on Saturday to members of the council and to the press was "the first word council got of this," Mayor Philcox said.

Edgar has had to guide his city through good years and bad, through periods of fantastic growth and through a current freeze on growth in his 5½ years as chief administrator. At 38 years of age he has been one of the youngest city managers in California.

"I am convinced that the public interest would better be served by someone new, bringing new ideas and a fresh look to what has been accomplished over the past few years," Edgar said. "I truly feel that our city's residents will benefit from this change."

Philcox said he would call a special meeting of the city council on Tuesday or Wednesday to start the recruitment process for a new city manager. Allan Campbell is the assistant city manager, and it is anticipated he will handle the city mnager's function during the recruitment process.

Sacramento has an annual budget of $100 million and is served by 4,000 city employes.

Conflict code takes form in Livermore

LIVERMORE — A draft conflict of interest code found smooth sailing in a routine public hearing of the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District Thursday.

The LARPD board is expected to act on the document Feb. 9, before sending it to the county board of supervisors for a final approval.

Directors and top administrative management of LARPD, overseeing an almost $2 million annual park and recreation budget, are covered in the document.

Provisions outline disclosure statement requirements, including contents of investment and real property reports, personal income reports, business entity income reports and management position reports.

County guidelines had listed the Liermore Memorial Building Commission as one group that would need a separate code, but LARPD directors asked if that was necessary now that the LARPD board has jurisdiction of the Veterans Memorial Building.

LARPD Administrative Assistant Hal Adams was instructed to contact county officials for a clarification and report to the board Feb. 9.

SRV planning unit seen

DANVILLE — The possibilities of forming a San Ramon Valley area planning commission are being explored by local committee chairman and county officials.

They discussed the issue Thursday night in Danville with executives and members of the Valley Action Forum.

Eric Hasseltine, fifth district supervisor from Contra Costa County, described the status of the proposed planning commission.

He said Anthony A. Dehaesus, director of the Contra Costa County Planning Department, will be making a report to county supervisors. The report will include cost estimates and details concerned with forming the proposed planning commission.

At the present time there are two planning committees representing the San Ramon Valley. They are sponsored by the San Ramon Valley Chamber of Commerce. One of them represents residential planning; the other, commercial.

Whether these two would be merged into the proposed planning commission or would be disbanded remains to be seen. No solutions were reached during the exploratory meeting.

Ken Samuels, chairman for the SRV commercial planning committee, said he thought his committee was being effective.

Bill Cardinale, deputy chairman of the SRV commercial planning committee, emphasized their job was to review local development then provide input to the Contra Costa County Planning Commission.

Cardinalenoted the major difficulties encountered by the volunteer committees was a lack of time and information.

Clark Ensley, chairman of the planning committee for the Alamo Improvement Association, said their role was to help maintain the high quality of life in the Alamo area. He said he noted there was a great deal of public apathy regarding this issue and others throughout the valley. He maintained people don't seem to pay attention until it is too late to provide effective input.

Redwood considered for signals

PLEASANTON — The city might consider using redwood standards for the two pioneer traffic lights on Main Street, Vice - mayor Joyce LeClaire suggested last week.

LeClaire felt that redwood's natural look would help tone down the mechanical appearance of street signals. Softening the effect would be a real plus in an area where everyone is trying to promote the heritage look, said LeClaire.

She made her remarks when the council authorized $8,000 to hire TJKM Engineers as traffic consultants for installing signals on Main Street andSanta Rita Avenue.

Councilman Frank Brandes said the council wants to look at the plans before they are executed to make sure the design is appropriate. Director of Engineering Services Don Sooby said they will return,as they usually do. Brandes said he wanted press and public to understand that the council keeps tabs on such items.

VMH lacking nurses

The planned medical center in Pleasanton, which the board hopes to build in the 1980's, is expected to take the pressure off the Livermore facility.

Hospital directors exprssed concern at the shortage of intensive care and coronary care nurses and wanted to know: "Is there anything we can do about it?"

They were told that the problem was common to all hospitals and will prbably get worse before it gets better, as critical care units expand and the number of nurses qualified to handle the sophisticated specialty lags behind.

The only hope, said hospital administrator Tom Andrews, would be for the California Nurses Association to allow a pay differential for the extra - tough job, to motivate nurses to get the additional training.

Jaycees honor

DANVILLE— Tom Lotz, a social studies and physical education instructor at Stone Valley School in the San Ramon Valley Unified School District, has been named a state finalist in the Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Educator" competition.

Lotz will attend the finals to be held during a Jaycees convention Feb. 5-6 in Ventura. He was previously selected Outstanding Young Educator in the San Ramon district.

Water cuts opposed

If restrictions on water usage are ordered, they would begin with landscape irrigation, washing cars and other non - essential uses.

The likelihood of imposing water rationing would be greatly decreased if consumers undertook voluntary conservation methods which could save 23 per cent of water currently being consumed, Mar said.

A brick in toliets could save 15-20 gallons of water per day in the average Valley household, with a total savings of 600,000 gallons per day. That alone would be an 18 per cent savings in indoor water consumption.

Other recommended conservation methods include fixing leaks, putting drinking water in the refrigerator, rinsing dishes in the basin, turning off water while shaving, brushing teeth and soaping up, installing flow restrictors in shower heads and aerators in faucets, and using automatic sprinkling systems.

Mar said he would meet with representatives from neighboring communities and the State Water Resources Control Board next week to discuss the water supply crisis.

A "state of the drought" report will be presented at the Zone 7 board's Feb. 16 meeting at 8 p.m. at the Del Valle Treatment Plant, 601 East Vallecitos Road in Livermore.

'Don't follow me'— but thousands listen to seer Krishnamurti, says valley disciple

By Lucy Hobgood-Brown

"Truth is a pathless land," declared Indian philosopher J. Krishnamurti over 40 years ago to his thousands of followers. With those words he broke free from the Order of the Star, an organization formed to revere the man many theosophists heralded as "the spiritual leader of the age."

Born the eighth son, Kishnamurti's aura dazzled many at a young age. He was groomed to lead his mystically - inclined followers until a day when he disbanded them, saying, "There cannot be a spiritual leader — we must be teachers ourselves."

Since that day, the ageless philosopher has traveled around the world questioning the very roots of our culture and stressing that there is no essential difference between the teacher and the taught, that they both function at the same level in the active process of learning.

At 81, he spends most of his time at retreats in Ojai, Calif., and Gstaad, Switzerland, where he asks his listeners to "take my words as a mirror — do not accept or reject them."

Attempting to do just that is a small group of people in the valley, who meet every Tuesday at the Livermore Public Library. Led by Carol Pitts, a housewife who first heard Krishnamurti speak in San Francisco several years ago, the group studies the Indian's assertion that the real discipline in learning comes from within.

"He's very easy to misinterpret," admits Carol, who flew to Switzerland last summer to hear him again. "My first reaction when I read about him was that he came across as being cold. Now he comes across as being compassionate."

An able instructor, Carol recently obtained a masters degree from the California Institute of Asian Studies. After teaching many Creative Dynamics classes in Livermore, where she has lived with her family for the last 18 years, Carol says she has decided to move her focus to Krishnamurti. "He asks us to drop what we already know," she says, "and the implications are astounding."

An eye-opening request by the Indian might be to look at a flower with complete attention in which there is no word, no symbol, no naming of the flower. Until someone does this, he declares, there can be relationship with a flower. With a mind that is completely attentive, he adds, it is what it is — not what you judge it to be.

Carol agrees that it is very difficult to have a "quiet mind," but she says it can come with practice. "It doesn't mean that the mind is blank or void," she emphasizes, "but that you are more aware of the tricks it's trying to play and the images you have. It can be truly sensitive."

Carol uses tapes of Krishnamurti's discourses and the text "The First and Last Freedom" in the 12 class sessions. Although she spends much of her spare time preparing for the class, Carol doesn't neglect another interest — learning Sanskrit!

Now that her children are in college, Carol Pitts finds more time to study Asian philosophies.

Church's burden

For over a year the United Presbyterian Community Church in Pleasanton has labored with the problem of space, growth and all the other challenges that come to older institutions in a volatile society. For Pleasanton Presbyterian that burden was particularly heavy in view of the century - old sanctuary that at times seem to block the congregation's expansion into new fields of worship, education and social action.

A year of study, deliberation and occasional confrontation has been resolved with a decision to retain that handsome old edifice, rather than move it to a new hilltop site as some had advocated. Even that decision was not easy, and the congregation's problem is far from resolved.

This community newspaper reasons that it is a problem which should not be borne by one congregation, or even just by the Presbyterian following.

We are a Valley sensitive to the preservation of all historic structures, regardless often of their run - down state or lack of contemporary use. It is enough that the structure provides some link to our distant past. The church at Neal and Second streets is all of that, and much more.

The service rendered to worshipers, to public forums and to social action throughout the past 100 years from that one structure is more evident today, more vital today, than ever before. The beauty of that one building, its link to one town's heritage, is yet another incalculable value.

While acknowledging the right of one congregation to do with their property as they wish, The Times would hope that the Presbyterians would invite those of us from outside their following to join them in any action aimed at preserving that sanctuary. If such community support should also contribute to the vitality of a parish and its function in our town, then we are doubly rewarded.

The Times would like to pledge its resources in support of such a crusade. Others of you who feel that way might wish to write or telephone your comments to the editor.

The week in retrospect

Serrano-Priest

The California Supreme Court's December ruling ordering the state to scrap its present property-tax based school financing system and replace it by 1980 with one providing equal educational opportunities for students in both rich and poor districts could severely hurt two valley school districts.

To briefly review, the court held that the current system of financing violates the rights of the state's 4.5 million public elementary and secondary school pupils to equal protection guarantees under the state constituion.

The court noted that poor districts—and in this valley Livermore, Amador and Murray are considered "low wealth" — are not able to tax themselves "into excellence" because their tax rolls are not sufficient to do so.

The court's Serrano - Priest decision, its implications and a proposed formula for implementation from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr's office were detailed at Thursday's meeting of Assemblyman Floyd Mori's valley education committee.

As mentioned in a news story on the meeting, Mori admits he has "a problem with this whole concept of high wealth, low wealth."

Sunol Glen and San Ramon, the little and big of Valley districts, are the two that could be hurt by implementation of Serrano - Priest.

Assessed valuation within a district's boundaries is the major determinant of how much it can spend for its schools—"and as long as it is the major factor on how much it can spend, only a district with a large tax base will truly be able to decide how much it cares about education," the court contends.

State officials and legislators have estimated that a solution to the Serrano problem would cost between $500 million and $2 billion.

Mori believes the governor's general proposal will ultimately be adopted. He is on the reform subcommittee to look at the proposal.

But Mori is realistic enough to see that "we're not going to get total equality from the governor's program.

Asked by Dr. Ted Woy, Murray School District board president when the wealth of the state's district might become equalized, Mori responded there is nothing in the works for a followup five-year plan after Brown's 1977-78 to 1981-82 chart.

As outlined by Mori Thursday, Brown's plan has 13 objectives and would be phased-in over the five year period noted.

These objectives include providing for restructuring and revitalizing of K-12 schools, eliminating slippage and increase state share of costs, making annual adjustments related to society's ability to pay, recognizing special needs of students and schools, removing of recurring annual pressures for additional funds, maximizing property tax relief, controlling growth of school expenditures, retaining the principle of local control, placing of a lid on state taxes, and preventing of a statewide property tax consolidation of districts.

Under the Serrano equalization portion of Brown's proposal, public school districts throughout the state would receive a total of $180 million. Adding K-12 restructuring (placing of ECE, Miller Unruh, and MGM into new restructuring program), socioeconomic impact aid (EDY and bilingual education into new formula), special needs of students, and state teachers retirement system, the total state general fund cost for 1977-78 would be $294 million.

During the present year, $273 million is allotted for the same purposes.

By 1981-82, the total state general fund cost under Brown's plan would escalate to $1.1 billion.

All this, mind you, is supposedly in the name of equalizing wealth among the "haves" and "have nots."

No matter whose plan you look at, it is mind boggling. Whether Serrano - Priest accurately addresses the problems of education in this state is still subject to debate.

It is an answer, but not necessarily the best one.

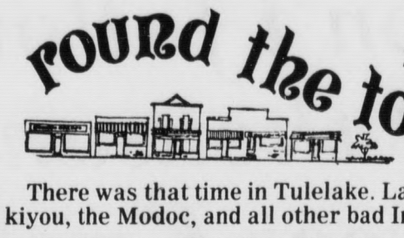
round the town



There was that time in Tulelake. Land of the Siskiyou, the Modoc, and all other bad Indians.

The story is still told — for those visiting duck hunters willing to stand still long enough — of "the last great Indian war in this country." And as Indian wars go I suppose Captain Jack's winter - long holdout against the armies of the United States was a good one.

But it was not Indians, and not even the United States Army, which was the source of our malcontent, three score years ago. We were displeased with the bureaucrats. Those in Sacramento. Who declined to render us Tulelakers our just dues ... in such providence of state government as paving for our roads, or even roads to pave. We were angry. Fed up. Rebellious.

"Let us secede from California!" was the cry. And it was positively amazing how quickly most Tulelakers agreed. They agreed also in Newell, south across the border in Modoc land; they agreed in Dorris, that urban cluster of 100 Siskiyouans to the west.

But they didn't agree in the state of Oregon. Or even in Idaho, which rested kitty - corner to the northeast. And so, with no one to secede to, the great Tulelake rebellion passed on. Beaten by the bureaucrats, just as had been Captain Jack and all those others who dared take on city hall.

I was thinking about that Tule secession movement just the other day. When word of the great Quebec uprising was flowing across the wires of Associated Press. Those French - Canucks are restless, as you may have heard. They are tired of their English overlords. Tired even of the English tongue. They would break away. Form their own nation. Cut themselves adrift from Mother Dominion.

Truth is, the movement is not new. And not even confined to Quebec. Canadians have always been a restless lot. From Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. From the frigid climes of Newfoundland to the arid stretches of Saskatchewan.

"Let us secede!" That has been the cry, over the years. But, like the Tulelakers, there has been no one to secede to.

The Quebecois are only different in that one. Just create a nation unto themselves. It is an interesting idea. And it has the other nine provinces watching, with great anxiety.

"If Quebec can stand alone, then why not Ontario?" That is asked, though whispered still, along the busy commercial avenues in Toronto. It is stated in somewhat stronger language in the windswept plains from Winnipeg west to Swift Current ... north to Edmonton ... the "prairie provinces" from which sprung much of Canada's great resource of grains. And from which in recent years has come vast wealth in minerals, oil, timber.

Alberta broke away, sort of, as long as 50 years ago. The provincial government decided it would best serve Alberta's interests to print their own currency. Teachers and other high - priced governmental servants would be paid in this script, and therby required to spend same within the province ... for nowhere else in the land could that script be redeemed.

The fascinating view here is that the Canadian government felt powerless to stop Alberta from printing and circulating its own currency! So too when the Saskatchewan socialists opted to "naitonalize" ("provincialize?") all transportation and most industry within that province. They did it, and that was that.

The bond (it is actually the "British North American Act") which binds one province to the other, and all of them to Ottawa, is a far flimsier chain than that which ties each of these 50 states to Washington. (Actually, no one has tested that USA bond in recent decades, a tribute I suspect more to the National Guard than to any great national allegiance. But that's another story.)

The Quebecois say they do not like Ottawa, or other Canadians, because of the "language barrier." Frankly, I heard the same complaint in Saskatchewan, in the months following World War II, when the victorious troops came home only to find the same old "Anglican English only spoken here" attitude which had prevailed in the days when London owned the railroads, the Hudson's Bay Company, controlling the waterways and the trappers ... and thereby also wooing and winning over the restless Indian tribes of outer Canada, without ever firing a shot.

It has taken all these years for one segment of that loose Dominion to rebel ... against the "foreign capitalists" ... rejecting "taxation without representation" which has always been a free peoples' quest.

It never worked for me in Tulelake. Or for Captain Jack's Indians, either. I wonder how the Quebecois will make out

Teachers, Schools

SRV candidate

Editor, The Times:

As a homewoner, property-tax payer, and without any children in the schools, I felt someone should represent the whole commnity as a school board member. In seeking that position, I offer the first in a series of 5 views:

Controlled Growth — the present school district builder's policy should not only be modified to prevent the bedroom from being mis-labeled as a den by developers, but in addition the current rate of $225.00 fee per bedroom should be raised to $500.00. This increase will offset the higher building costs that have occurred since the current fee was set and will allow the developer to take more of the social responsibility for the financing of new school construction. I believe that if the developer is going to create the need for more schools, than he should be made to help pay for the cost of building those new schools. The threat of additional tax increases to the community would be less if the developer would be made to share a bigger part of the burden.

Rebuttal is welcomed: after all, if a better idea results from my having touched upon a sensitive issue, then so be it! The community should come first.

Early education

Editor, The Times:

I also felt a need to respond to the letter from Barbara Stear, school board candidate. Personally, I feel it is important for everyone to have their choice of education for their children. This is why it is important to developfundamental schools for those who agree with Ms. Stear's views.

On the other hand I would like to put in a positive note regarding Early Childhood Education in schools that choose this program. Each ECE program is as good as it's school, staff, and volunteers. My children's school, Henry/ Rancho las Positas, has embarked on an ECE program this year and it is an exciting and enriching experience for all involved, especially our children. This program involves a great deal of work on the part of our teachers, principal staff, coordinator and parent volunteers.

All of this necessary effort is worth it to achieve the end result. This result is an exciting and creative alternative to the "structured approach."

I, for one, want my children to have that choice and I will do what is needed to support it.

Taxpaying teacher

Editor, The Times:

Parents, we need you! I am a parent of five children who have attended the Livermore Schools. ... I am a teacher and a librarian and for the first time in the 23 years that I have lived and taught in Livermore, I am frightened for our children's education.

Our present Board members are committed to represent you, but they represent only themselves. Three hundred plus teachers who are also parents and taxpayers voted clearly that Binding Arbitration, is necessary to insure that your children get an unbiased education. The dentist who has been on the School Board longer than anyone, then stated that as long as he was on the Board, Livermore would not have Binding Arbitration. He said that without your imput! Do you really care so little about your children's education that you are ready to let a dentist make all the important educational decisions in this community? Does this really reflect Your viewpoint?

Teachers devote their entire lives to education of youth. Board members are elected by popularity or apathy and meet two to four times a month with pay plus medical and dental benefits and they are not educators. The School Board should be representing you and all the other parents of our community.

Talk to teachers. Get the Facts. The media distorts and you follow like lambs. Well, your children have one chance for a good, comprehensive education and that chance is now. Will you support them as we do?

Biking hazards

Editor, The Times:

I am an Amador Valley High School student, and I ride my bike to and from school every day. The problem is this, cars. Almost every day I see people on bikes slamming on their brakes because car drivers are not paying enough attention to bike riders. Here are a few examples of things that have happened to me. One rainy day, I was coming out of a parking lot and I saw a car coming to my left, I tried to stop but the street was to wet so I put my foot down to stop, the car didn't even slow down and I ended up 6-inches from it, the person in the car looked at me with a dirty look and drove away. Another problem is riding downtown, Many times I ride on the street and I try to stay as near to the sidewalk as possible, I'll be riding along and someone will open their car door right in front of me, that's serious trouble, because its not always easy to stop.

I don't think it's just the bikers responsability to watch for cars drivers should watch out for bikers, and pedestrians too. Next time you have a run in with a biker, think about who's at fault before you make a remark at the person on the bike. By-the-way, the problem is mostly with adults. Next time you take a drive, please think about this.

Thank you,
A concerned student

Pipeline alternative

To: Board of Directors,
LAVWMA

At your recent Dublin workshop I urged reuse — not export — of treated effluent. We were told that irrigation water is not needed at certain times of the year. It strikes me that dilution would be ample to solve the problem during non-irrigation seasons.

As for export schemes — none of which I favor. The monetary cost summary gives some figures to play with. Let's compare 1A (Niles Canyon) and 1B (over the hill).

(The writer here provides a chart of comparative costs in which he concludes "local share after payoff" of $139,000 for the Niles Canyon route, $521,000 for the pipeline ove the hill. — Editor)

These figures did not even consider possible use of an existing pipeline down Niles Canyon. When neither that possibility nor Suisun Bay discharge had even been explored, I question the validity of high cost engineering studies you had bought.

I favor local re-use rather than export of effluent. If export is necessary, 1A (Niles Canyon) looks like a much better proposed than 1B (pumping over the hill).

A new rap

Get involved.

Wasn't that a lovely catch-phrase for the sixties. We had Watts, Kent State, Vietnam — lots of reasons to fret over the human condition. So we painted placards and shouted at protest meetings to be relevant.

We didn't just sit on our duffs. We got up and did something. Got involved.

What it solved? Nobody can guess. Probably nothing. But didn't we all feel better after a rap session? Today, however, it doesn't seem as though involvement holds the same satisfaction. Fulfillment is taking a new course. At least in our neighborhood.

There are opportunities galore to formulate public policies and guidelines, but nobody is taking advantage.

Consider the evidence.

School board elections come up in March throughout Dublin, Livermore, Pleasanton and San Ramon. Yet in at least one area, the Pleasanton School District, they almost cancelled the race for lack of entrants. Right up to filing deadline, there weren't enough candidates to vote for. Vacant seats on the board were to be filled by appointment. Eventually they found enough warm bodies, but there was no stampede to sign up, and to date, little campaigning.

There's less struggle for spots on the Valley Memorial Hospital board of directors. Vacant seats in the upcoming VMH election will be taken by candidates who run unopposed.

Meanwhile, the empty director's chair on the Valley Mental Health Advisory Committee portends an ominous void. If new leadership is not located for the group that lobbies on behalf of mental health programs out here, it will disband.

The Pleasanton Housing Authority faces no such danger, but it can't find a replacement for retired board member William Thompson. One church minister applied, but his congregation meeting conflicts with the PHA.

In a crisis, joked one commissioner, the housing authority could bow reverently, and ordain a new meeting night.

His humor isn't far off the mark. Public agencies have to conform to the public's schedule these days, if they're going to appeal to the public at all.

We're not clamoring for power on agencies and commissions anymore.

Editorial writers claim it's because of Richard Nixon and the crooks in Washington. They've disillusioned us, spoiled our appetite for public service, say the experts, so we're turning away from it.

It's hard to figure how a conniving politician 3,000 miles away can scare off a candidate for school board, but that's what we're told.

Community - minded sorts still flock to service organizations or school volunteer programs — perhaps in greater numbers than ever before.

They're just not lining up for exoctic bureaucracies with names as long as your agenda.

What we see may be simply a new thrust in involvement. People want to help on a personal basis — face-to-face.

It's a lofty view from the board of director's chair, but a distant one. And not too pleasant when the audience grows weary.

Berry's World

"Sorry fella, I'm one of the eight per cent of the public that has no opinion, want to talk to my wife?"

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband has been losing weight so fast the last two years that he has lost 40 pounds. He eats well and sleeps well. You can count his ribs.

The doctor doesn't seem to know what causes him to lose weight. He had a physical not long ago. I am so worried, afraid of cancer. My first husband died from cancer. His head hurts in the back. Could it possibly be a tapeworm?

DEAR READER — Weight loss follows the same principles of weight gain. Your body uses as many calories of energy a day as it needs to maintain itself and the number of calories used to do physical work of various types. If you take in more calories than your body uses you store the excess energy as fat. If you use more energy than you take in you deplete the energy stored as body fat. After the fat is gone you start using the muscles for body energy.

Anyone who has unexplained weight loss must have an examination. The most common cause is an inadequate diet — not taking in enough calories. After that you need to look at problems that prevent absorbing your food — that literally prevent the calories of energy from ever getting into your body. A host of intestinal problems are in this category, including parasites which could be worms. Worms still exist in a surprising number of people but a simple stool examination and competent examination of the digestive system will demonstrate them.

The calories may be lost from the body in the urine, as in a diabetic losing sugar in the urine to cause weight loss.

If you are eating enough, absorbing the calories and not losing them, the next problem could be things that increase the body's use of calories. This includes an overactive thyroid gland that is like turning up the thermostat causing the body cells to use lots more energy and release more heat. These individuals usually eat a lot and still lose weight.

The infectious diseases, including tuberculosis, cause tissue destruction and in the replacement process you use more calories. The increased heat production with a fever and the repair processes use calories. That is why you are correct in feeding a fever. I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-6 Body Temperature and Fever, to give you more information on this. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio, TX 78292.

Cancer can be a cause of weight loss and is one reason why anyone with this problem deserves a complete examination. The cancer cells multiply and form new growth. New growth requires energy. The best example here is the energy consumption of the growing child. It takes energy to hook together the chemical compounds that form new tissue.

Cork is the light, spongy material used for bottle stoppers, fishing bobbers, gaskets, and so on.

Cork comes from the bark of the cork oak tree, which grows mainly in Spain and Portugal. Most trees have cork in their bark. But no other tree has so much as the cork oak.

A cork tree must be about 20 years old before its bark is thick enough to cut. Cork workers peel the cork from the trees and dry the strips of cork in the sun. Each cork tree may yield 100 or more pounds of cork.

Stripping the cork doesn't injure the cork tree. Within 10 years a new layer of cork will be ready for harvest.

The slabs of stripped cork are boiled and the rough, gritty outer layer is scraped off. Boiling also softens the cork so that the slabs can be flattened for baling.

The thick bark contains billions of tiny air cells. These let cork float, insulate, and spring back when squeezed.

For Sunday, Jan. 30, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Stay on the straight and narrow today. This is one of those times when you can't get away with anything — even little white lies.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be particularly careful today if doing business with strangers. Don't buy anything from anyone who isn't willing to stand behind his product 100 per cent.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You could be a bit too wishy-washy today for your own good. You're apt to do all you can to duck a decision.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Turn your back on intrigue today or you may be drawn into a situation that could prove harmful to your reputation.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're very susceptible to flattery today. One who recognizes this will use it to her own end. Take compliments with a grain of salt.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A little bravado will be called for today if you're in a competitive situation. Don't expose your uncertainties.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-oct. 23) It's not likely that others will have faith in your ideas today unless you first have it yourself. They will see through the veneer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone who is wasteful with their possessions and resources will look to you as their benefactor today. You owe the party nothing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) For the sake of expediency you are likely to make promises today you have small intention of keeping. It would be better for all if you didn't.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you can be relied upon to handle your end of the responsibilities. Today, however, you would rather be served than serve.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You could step far out of character today and pretend to be something you aren't. This is very unwise. You're not a convincing actor in the role.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You tend to anticipate the outcome of events far too negatively today. You'll feel a bit foolish later when fears prove unfounded.

Your Birthday

Try to make alliances this year with persons whose ideals are in harmony with yours. Unions of this type will have far-reaching favorable effects.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "When was the forcing two-bid invented and who was responsible?"

Oswald: "The year was 1929 and there were three of us — Ted Lightner, Waldemar von Zedwitz and myself. Our three basic concepts were: It should include so many high cards that there would be a danger a non-forcing bid would be passed. It should be within one trick of game. There should be distinct slam possibilities."

Jim: "Those are still valid. How about the bust response of two notrump?"

Oswald: "That was our idea also, but it wasn't as good as it might have been. Nevertheless it got into standard American bidding and is probably there to stay."

Jim: "If South opens today's hand with a forcing two bid, North responds two notrump, South raises to three, West opens the queen of hearts and if the defense doesn't block the suit they gather in five quick heart tricks."

Oswald: "That is why the correct opening bid with this South hand is three notrump. Nothing can hurt him and if a heart is opened he will have 10 top tricks."

Ask the Jacobys

A Minnesota reader sent us the hand in today's article. He asked if we would open it with a forcing two bid. This article answers his question. Avoid forcing two bids with notrump type hands if possible.

Aide seeks chief exec in Murray

Dr. Donald Leu, named by the Murray School District board to head recruitment for a new superintendent, met informally with Acting Superintendent Heinz Gewing recently to discuss procedures for filling the consultant's position.

Gewing has said the person serving as consultant would be paid $3,000 or $4,000.

Leu is a professor of administration and higher education at San Jose State University. He has been at San Jose since 1968, previously serving on the faculty at Michigan State University. He was also a deputy superintendent of education for the State of Michigan.

Leu will be responsible for securing applicants for the position formerly held by Dr. Donald Williams, who was approved for sick leave status Jan. 3. Williams had been troubled by reoccuring heart problems.

Gewing and Murray principal Joe Kappeler attended an Association of Low Wealth School Districts meeting in Sacramento Tuesday.

The discussion centered on effects of the Serrano-Priest decision and what the low wealth districts, as a group, could do in the future.

Representatives of the Livermore Unified School District were also present.

Gewing also reported that an architect is about to be hired to look at possible restructuring of Frederiksen School as part of its conversion to a seventh - eighth facility by next September.

Some things never change — like old, faded band uniforms at East Avenue School. This one, worn by 13 - year - old Janie Dailey, looks familiar to her 22 - year - old brother, Scott, who was in the band the first year those uniforms were purchased. Time to raise money for new ones, decide the shocked Daileys, who will be helping to run a pizza night Monday, 6 - 9 p.m. at the Pizza Arcade on East Avenue. Proceeds will go toward new uniforms; entertainment will be provided. (Times photo)

Sidhu on Tufold

LIVERMORE — At a recent coffee given at the home of Colleen Eyler, school board candidate Gail Sidhu responded to a question posed by a concerned parent about Tufold — Granada High's innovative scheduling system — by proposing a plan for alternative programs at both high schools.

"If a traditional program is successful at Livermore High, it should be as strong and viable at Granada.

"Also an innovative and creative program such as Tufold would be a benefit to the motivated and gifted at Livermore High."

Thornton raps

LIVERMORE — Livermore school board candidate Jack Thornton in a recent campaign release spoke out on the current tension between teachers and school board. He said:

"I think it is a sad situation when Livermore teachers reach such an impasse that they feel they need to strike or threaten strike in order to accomplish anything.

"I'm appalled at the stubbornness and apparent insensitivity of the members of the Livermore board of education.

"I don't like to see teachers go out on strike, it hurts not only the students but the teachers, parents and the community as well. However, I cannot condone a school board that fails to recognise and meet the needs of our teachers.

"In order for our system of education to work, we need complete and selfless cooperation between the teachers and the administration on an even basis, cooperation which the school board seems unwilling to give."

Change needed

LIVERMORE — Jan Brice criticized the school board incumbents in a recent campaign statement.

Candidate Brice said, "I am running for the four - year term because I want to change the direction of the board. I want a board that is open to the community."

As a board watcher for the past few years, I have noticed that the present board majority does not include the community in its decision - making process. For example, the board majority decided that there would be a fundamental school in Livermore before fully studying the impact of this decision on the parents and students involved.

"I am not opposed to offering choices in our schools. However, I contend that the board majority forced their opinion on the community in this instance. This is not the action of a responsive school board!

"As a new board member I will be open. I will listen and I will respond to the concerns of the community."

State seeks ideas for handicapped in education

Public comment on an annual program plan for education of the handicapped under Public Law 94-142 will be invited Wednesday at a meeting to be conducted by the California State Department of Education.

It will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Airport Hilton Inn, Vintage conference rooms, San Francisco.

The San Francisco meeting is one of five in the state. Others were held in Sacramento, Redding, Los Angeles, and San Diego.

To comply with the federal law, each state is required to coordinate its resources to seek out, identify and evaluate children and young people, from birth to age 21, who are handicapped and in need of special education and related services.

Because significant numbers of handicapped children throughout the nation are not provided full opportunities for education, Congress has set priorities on the use of funds under Public Law 94-142 to insure that such children in fact will be located and assessed and that all handicapped individuals will be provided with a free appropriate public education.

Pleasanton, Amador schools

Business policies hit

(This is the first of three articles covering the University of California Field Service Center report on the business services division of the Amador and Pleasanton school districts)

The three-man study team that probed and analyzed operations of the business services division considered a recommendation of reorganization or restructuring of the section but eventually decided it was not warranted.

But the team, composed of UC professor Dr. Ted Reller, San Ramon school district business manager Orrin Batchelor, and William B. Haley, business advisory section of the Los Angeles County Schools, found that the districts have not developed up-to-date statement of policies and administrative procedures regarding business services.

Too, the team was critical of the districts' relying on past practices.... "when the organization and its services have had to expand at a rapid rate and with inadequate equipment."

However, the report says "there is no evidence of any malfeasance."

Among the recommendations suggested were, (1) transferring responsibility for administration of classified personnel services to the assistant superintendent for personnel (Carl Krause) as soon as feasible, (2) that one person outside of business services be designated as coordinator of special and categorical aid programs with whom the business office may work, (3) a position for accounting/ budgeting analyst be established under the director of fiscal services (Virginia Gorski), (4) personnel functions now performed by the payroll clerks be transferred to the office of assistant superintendent for certificated personnel (Krause), and (5) that policies and administrative procedures be developed and adopted regarding business services. The team recommends the latter commence immediately and that it be on-going.

Reller and Batchelor, who reviewed the report with the respective boards last Wednesday, said they believe the changes will help Doug Rose, the assistant superintendent for business services, in devoting more time to central responsibilities of his division — such as development of policies and administrative procedures, staff development of personnel in the department, and the evaluation of functioning of divisions.

The report also deals with a review of the business office equipment, relationship of the business division and county office, purchasing, and food services. Excerpts from the report on these areas will run in the following two articles.

Velasquez 13 strokes behind leaders

By Dave Weber

HAYWARD — Defending champion Rod Velasquez doubled - bogeyed three holes to drop 13 strokes behind the leaders in the Hayward City tournament at Skywest Golf Course here yesterday.

Velasquez, a 28 - year old Livermore golfer, struggled to sixes on the first, fifth, and 14th holes to card an 83, well off the pace set by first - round co - leaders Ron Marks and Dan James.

The pair fired 70s to share a two - stroke lead over ace - aided Val Beatriz. Marks picked up six birdies and four bogies to score 35 on both sides, while James needed a 34 on the back nine to gain the lead.

None the less, James was more consistent, failing to tally a par or better on only the eighth and ninth holes.

Pleasanton's David Matthews kept an outside chance in the three - round event with a seven - over par 79.

Matthews got off to an aggreeable start before losing four strokes on the three holes of the front nine. A bird on the 398 - yard 10th hole perked up a similar showing on the way in.

Two familier names in valley golf circles apparently did not play as anticpated. Ned Bellinger was scatched from the scoreboard while no numbers were up for Dublin's Chris Cantalini.

After a drought of many years, an incredible total of three holes - in - one were achieved on the first day of competition. Beatriz aced the 145 - yard second hole as did Craig Anderson, who finished at 78.

Three strokes back in the handicap flight, Bryon Katadka eagled the 190 - yard, par three, 16th hole.

Eighteen - handicapper Vince Walton took the early lead in that flight with a net 71.

The second round will be played today at the lengthy layout adjacent to the Hayward Air Terminal.

Pokes' drought ends, AV falls

By Brian Martin

A five - year itch was finally soothed Friday evening, an itch most of the East Bay Athletic League has been feeling for some time.

Amador Valley High's talented basketball squad scored just four third quarter points as the disciplined and red - hot Livermore Cowboys hung on for a 49-43 upset win over the Dons in Livermores Livermore.

EBAL Standings

	W	L	GB
Amador Valley	6	1	—
Granada	5	2	1
Monte Vista	5	2	1
Livermore	5	2	1
San Ramon	4	3	2
Foothill	2	5	4
California	1	6	5
Dublin	0	7	6

The Dons droppped their. first game of the league season and only their second EBAL defeat since 1974, as the 'Pokes won their fifth straight contest to finish the first half at 5-2.

"How long has it been since anybody's beaten Amador?", referred a happy Cowboy coach John Jones to the fact his team hasn't tasted a win over AV since 1972, "I don't think anybody but Granada has beaten them lately."

It was a mixture of old and new Cowboys turning the trick' as veterans Tim Jenkins and Mark McCreary combined for 26 points while sophomore Brian Schweiger and junior Dick Patterson pleased Jones with their surprising rebound strength over the taller Dons.

Amador's offense may well have had better luck in the National Basketball Association, where the Cowboys' over - riding zone defense would be illegal.

After taking a 16-15 first quarter lead, the 'Pokes ran well in the second quarter to head into the half ahead 35-25.

"We got to running a little bit in the first half, but we got in foul trouble again'" commented Jones' whose team committed five fouls in the first two minutes. "I don't know what it is. We've had a hard time with fouls all year."

They increased their lead to 43-27 before the Livermore side of the court dipped below the freezing mark. The Dons, behind the hot shooting of Chris DePrater and Chris Kearns combined with the offensive board domination by Don Hall and Sam Jorgensen, drew to 43-39 before Jenkins tossed in a fast - break lay - in with 1:09 to go for Livermore's first points on the fourth quarter.

Jones, whose team blew a similar double - digit lead in a 54-49 loss to Granada, said the circimstances were different. "This was good defense by Amador," he said. "It wasn't the same kind of game at Granada. We kept the same five in tonight, and at Granada we didn't have that five."

McCreary, Schweiger and Johnny Farfan, who fouled out early against Granada, played the full 32 minutes Friday, except for a brief period in the third quarter where Farfan was benched with his fourth foul.

The Dons, outfouling Livermore 24-16, fouled Jorgensen and DePrater out of the game to hurt their last - gasp rally.

DANVILLE — Big Joey Wujek picked up his third personal foul seconds into the second quarter Friday evening and San Ramon took advantage, cutting a 22-11 deficit down to one point by halftime enroute to a 69-65 upset win over Granada High.

The win gives the Wolves a 4-3 EBAL mark, while the Mats blew a chance to tie Amador for first place and settled for a 5-2 record, good for a second - place tie with Monte Vista and Livermore as the first half of the season came to a close.

Wujek eventually fouled out of the game, as did SR starters Brad Hallock, Phil Wiltz and Fritz Venker. But by the time those big guns were out of the game, the Wolves built a safe 10 - point lead and backed in for the win playing second-stringers.

Dan Lambert continued his consistent play for the Mats, canning 17 points to lead the losers ahead of Wujek's 14 - point effort and Jeff Evert's 15 markers. Wiltz led all with 23.

In two more EBAL contests Friday, California registered its first win of the campaign with a 59-50 win over still - winless Dublin High on the losers' court, while Foothill droppped a home game to Monte Vista, 54-46.

Reserve guard Steve Jayko sparked Monte Vista's win. He scored eight points, and managed to sink four free throws during a third - period stretch which saw the Mustangs increase their lead to 39-28, at the end of the quarter.

Dave Cowan led the winners with 14 points and Ken Krey added nine on four field goals and a charity shot.

Big Mike Sperber led Foothill with 22 points and consistent Rick Rosenbach added 16 markers.

Foothill jumped off to a 14-12 first - quarter lead behind Sperber and Rosenbach who each canned three field goals. The score was tied at 20-20 with five minutes remaining in the half but the 'Stangs went on an 8-2 streak to take a 28-22 advantage at half.

Monte Vista is now 5-2 in EBAL play and the Falcons are 3-4.

The Grizzlies started off fast, romping to a 42-19 halftime lead before the Gaels got back into the game too late, as Craig Cline led the Grizzly scoring attack with 23 points. That was plenty of points to pick up the slack of Larry Walters, who scored only three field goals in the game.

Dan Pearson and Jeff Barnes led the Dublin contingent with eight and 11 points, respectively. The Gaels, who looked tough against Granada in a narrow loss Wednesday, couldn't put together the same defensive effort this time out. Bruce Cummings added nine points.

Cal's biggest lead of the game came at 57-35 with 5:53 to go in the contest. Dublin outscored the Bears 17-7 in the final stanza. Chuck Cary added 14 points to the winners' case.

EBAL matmen star in frosh tourney

Granada's Jeff Baringer pinned Mike Wahl of Albany at 1:27 of the second round to win the 105 C - pound championship at last night's Livermore High Frosh Wrestling Tournament at Livermore.

Baringer, along with teammate Ward Dixon, Steve Allman of Foothill and Granada's George Kilner all made it to the finals of last night's tournament.

Lance Conley of Foothill (193 B) took third place with a pin of Pittsburg's Larry Norales in the third round, just three seconds before the end of the match.

Kilner got to the finals of the 193 - pound B class but lost to College Park's Ed Laraz, 11-0 in the championship bout. Monte Vista's Jim Hayward won the 133 D championship, defeating Mission San Jose's Mike Steele.

Dixon, wrestling in the 97 - pound B bracket, lost a 14-3 decision to Tracy's Larry Nicholson in the finals while Allman, one of four Falcon wrestlers wrestling for either third or first places, lost a 5-0 shutout to American's John Borgault in the 122 - pound D finals.

Foothill's Todd Deusterhaus won third place in the 86 - pound A bracket, sticking Los Gatos' Mike Filing in the second round. Mike Rowan, also of Foothill copped third in the 97 - pound A bracket with a pin at 1:25 of the first round of Oak Grove's Mike Lawson.

Soviet boxer beats Clark

Associated Press

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Russian strongman Igor Vysotski pounded out a decision over American heavyweight Jimmy Clark Saturday afternoon to lead the Soviet Union to a decisive 7-4 victory over the U.S. boxing team in the ninth annual competition between the two countries.

The Americans have never beaten the Russians since the competition began in 1969, and Saturday's nationally televised matches marked the second big step for the Soviets toward the 1980 Olympic Games in Moscow.

After a disappointing performance in the Montreal Olympics last summer, the Russians changed coaches and their heavyweight team came back with a victory over the Americans here in November.

Vysotski, a Siberian auto mechanic by trade, ran his record to 117-9. The 23-year-old Vysotski, who once beat world amateur and two-time Olympic champion Teofilo Stevenson of Cuba, sent Clark to the canvas with a hard left hook late in the first round.

Another clean left hook sent Clark, 22, of Coatesville, Pa., to the deck in the second round, but American referee Robert Surkein ruled that Clark slipped.

It was the rubber match between the two fighters. Clark stopped Vysotski on cuts in 1975, but the Russian boxer came back with a victory last year.

There were two controversial decisions during the afternoon and the Russians spotted the American team one point when Valerie Rashkov was unable to leave the Soviet Union and forfeited his match to Erasmos Gonzales of the U.S. Air Force.

The American team got the benefit of a doubt in the early going when Eiichi Jumawan of Hawaii was given the nod over Olympic bronze medalist Viktor Rybakov in the 125-pound devision. Rybakov scored at will with a versatile left and combinations, but the two American judges apparently felt that Jumawan's counter-punching was more effective.

The crowd estimated at 2,500 booed the decision in the 106- pound division when two Russian judges prevailed to give Vasily Plakushchy the decision over American Indian Adrian Dennis.

Dennis, a local favorite from Carson City, Nev., is the 1976 National Indian champion in his weight division, and had won 21 of 27 matches going into the bout.

He staggered the Russian for a standing eight-count in the first round, then scored heavily again in the second. But Plakushchy never stopped moving forward and scored heavily with quick combinations to the body and head throughout the fight, which apparently earned him his 94th victory against 21 losses.

Barry sparks Warriors

UNIONDALE, N.Y. — Rick Barry led the way as the Golden State Warriors evened their current road trip record at 2-2 with a convicing 106-84 win over the New York Nets here Friday night.

Barry canned 25 points, had four rebounds, five assists and four steals in one of his best overall performances of the season.

The Warriors took an easy 56-36 lead at halftime but the Nets came fighting back in the third quarter to narrow the gap to 58-47 midway through that period. However, two buckets by Barry and one by Jamaal Wilkes cut down the New York threat.

Golden State took its early lead on some outstanding defensive play. The Warriors picked up 12 steals for the evening. They have averaged 12 per contest in their last six starts, four of which were wins.

Center Clifford Ray sparked the Golden State defense and grabbed 10 rebounds. Rookie 7 - footer Robert Parish added 14. Parish was also a threat on the offense, tanking 16 points.

Other Warriors in double figures were Wilkes with 13 and guard Phil Smith with 12, 10 of them coming in the first eight minutes of the game. Former Warrior Bubbles Hawkins led the Nets with 27 points and Al Skinner added 19. Mel Davis scored 14 markers.

AV tops Foothill, Pokes lead

Compiled by Times staff

Striker Joe Correia was booting shots like pinballs while his Amador Valley teammates played near - perfect defense as the Dons slided their way to a 2-0 win over Foothill Friday, knocking the Falcons out of first place in the East Bay Athletic League soccer race.

In other EBAL action Livermore took the lead with a 1-0 decision over California and Granada edged Dublin 1-0.

The Dons rattled off 16 shots on goal, nearly half of them by Correia, who scored the Dons' first goal on a penalty kick after having an earlier one called back for a hand ball.

The goal came 22 minutes into the first half, after a furious charge by the Amador forwards on Foothill goalie Dave Konecny. Steve Blalock garnered AV's second goal in the fnal half at the 25 - minute mark, taking a lead pass from Pat Cohan on a well - executed power goal.

Amador's excellent defensive line of Steve and Mike Wilcox, Steve Englebrick and Paul Cowden, cleared all of Foothill's attempts to shoot well out of the goal area, as the Falcons netted only five shots on goal. The Dons also lifted nine corner kicks, as goalie Konecny and fullbacks Mike Cerdan, Dave Albert and Jeff Ghidossi were tested all afternoon.

"Their goalie played a good game," said AV mentor Mike Geib. "Amador was fired up today. We had two goals called back, but I think each one of our goals was justified."

The Granada - Dublin contest was as close as the score indicated.

Both teams had 12 shots on goal and most of the contest was played in midfield.

Fullback Gary Bannister scored the game's only goal with a minute left in the first half on a boomimg 20 - yard kick from the corner. He broke through two Dublin defenders and banged it in.

Ironically, Dublin outshot the Matadors eight to three in the first half but Bannister's goal seemed to give the Matadors momentum for the second half. Granada fired nine shots on goal while Dublin could get but four in the second period.

Manzar Iqbal of Granada narrowly missed a goal in the opening minutes of the match when he boomed a 25 - yarder that just passed the Dublin nets.

However, the rest of the first half (except for Bannister's goal) was dominated by Dublin. Several Gael shots just missed their mark or were grabbed by Matador goalie Gary Lamb.

Lamb had five saves for the contest while Dublin goalie Rusty Allen garnered six.

Granada coach Bill Coupe praised his defense, saying "it was our first shutout in quite a while."

Coupe also admitted Banninster's goal had a postive effect on Granada's second - half offensive performance.

"Sure, anytime time you score a goal like that it makes you play better," he admitted. "We kind of settled down after a awhile and played better."

The match was a foul - plagued contest with Granada getting 23 fouls and Dublin 21.

The win gave the Matadors a 7-2-2 mark and Dublin dropped to 6-6. Granada is tied with Foothill (8-4) for third place.

Livermore moved into a half - game lead with its win over California.

Billy Hunt scored the game's only goal with a 12 - yard penalty kick in the second half.

The Pokes dominated the contest more than the score indicated, firing 14 shots on goal to just one for California. Hunt's score came with 15 minutes gone in the match.

Livermore now had a 8-2-2 mark while Amador is in second with a 8-2-1 record.

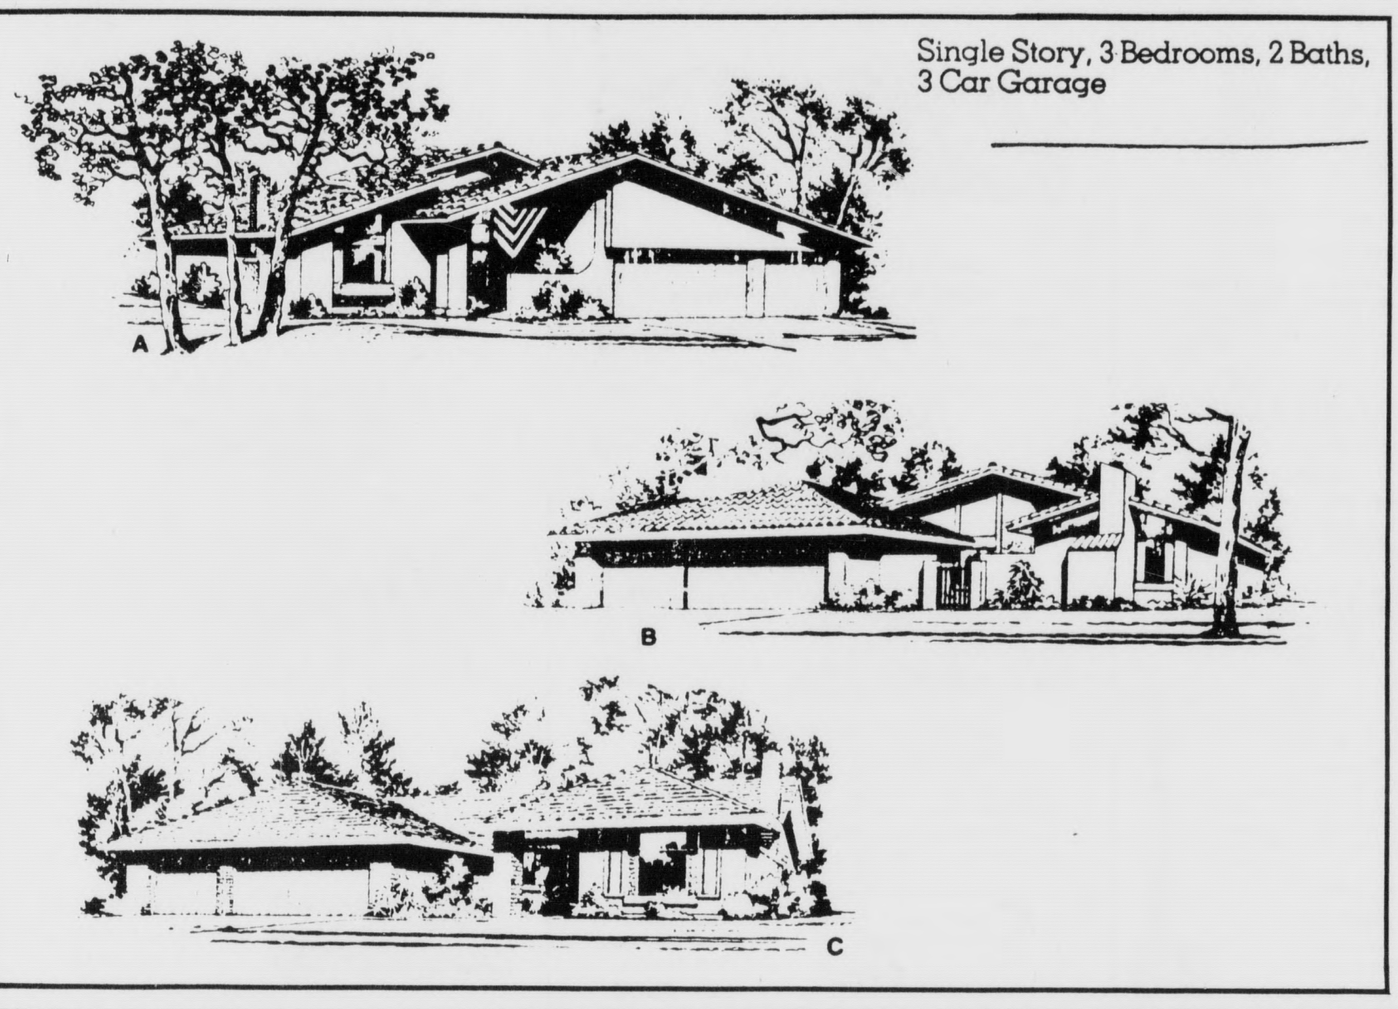
Rancho Ramon on the golf course



Thirty new homes ready for buyers

Shapell Industries of Northern California - Rancho Ramon announce thirty more homes are now available in Rancho Ramon's Fairway Series of homes located on San Ramon Country Club fairway lots.

"In all, there will be 129 homes in the exclusive Fairway Series," said Stan Cook, vice president of marketing and sales for Shapell Industries of Northern California, Inc. "These homes are not for the average buyer," stressed Cook." Priced from $75,800, plus the cost of variable lot premiums, they are designed for those who want and can afford the prestige, privacy and exclusivity attendant on owning a country club home.

Rancho Ramon's Fairway series community is located near schools and shopping centers. It offers easy access to major freeways and Bart, and is within driving distance of San Ramon-Dublin and Danville, two of Contra Costa County's fastest - growing communities.

Homes feature th same quality workmanship and design normally found in a Shapell home. But as country club homes they are being built with special emphasis on their location. Optimum use is being made of the positioning of windows and patios for full advantage of the views and pastoral surroundings.

Fairway Series homes have three, four and five bedrooms with two and three baths and a wide range of extras included in the base price. Square footage ranges from 1,842 to over 3,000 square feet of house area.

To reach Rancho Ramon, take Highway 680 north toward Sacramento to the Alcosta, going over 680 to San Ramon Valley Road, turn right on San Ramon to Mentevideo, turn right and follow the signs.

PREVIEW OF HOMES—OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Lost time is lost money, says realtor

"Buying a home is a step that requires planning and foresight," says John Ferreri, Senior Vice President of Valley Realty, one of the largest real estate firms in the Bay Area.

" While the future is always uncertain," he explains, " the perceptive home buyer knows that the best time to buy a home is whenever he needs it and can afford it. To delay can be costly."

Ferreri notes that one thing remained constant during all of the swings and turns of the economy during the past three years: home values climbed steadily upward. Throughout the entire period, those who waited for better prices or lower interest rates found hesitation an expensive mistake.

"It is always possible," says Ferreri, "that the $35,000 house you don't buy today will be the $40,000 house that you can't quite afford next year." Consequently, waiting for an unlikely decline in mortgage rates can be a very careless approach to economy. While interest rates may rise or fall by one or two percentage points, home values are currently increasing by an average of 15 per cent annually. This reinforces the view that the best time to buy a home is now.

"As most home owners know by now," comments Ferreri, " a home is also an excellent investment. As we have seen over the past twenty years, houses have provided significant returns for their owners. That trend should certainly continue into the future."

Even the more modest house can serve as a stepping stone to a more spacious dwelling. Ownership offers a unique means of building equity and preparing for the future. "Those who are entering the home-buying market for the first time are understandibly cautious, and buying the first house is a major adventure. The idea of facing 25 or 30 years of payments often tests the nerve of a young young family. But that rarely happens in today's mobile society."

In general, the average family moves every eight years or so. This fact of American life is often linked to occupation or changing family lifestyles. However, regardless of the reasons our mobility has resulted in a steady availability of homes in every description and price range. For the seller this tendency to move along to something better also implies a significant profit because of historic economic trends.

Summing up, Ferreri believes that anyone planning for the future should place the ownership of a home high on the priority list.

TRI VALLEY'S TOPS

Seems the ladies took all the top honors at Tri-Valley Brokers' Livermore office for 1976! Loretta Richardson, Farris Vanderhoff, Rita Simpson and Rose Marie Stein, all four exceeded one million in volume for the year. That's quite an accomplishment, as the real estate field has become a highly competitive field. These ladies have sacrificed a lot of long, hard hours to attain a plateau such as this. Congratulations and good luck in 1977!
